The Rag Importation Question.
The acting secretary of the treasury, Mr C.o., yesterday heard arguments of the manufacturers of papers and importers of rags on their claim for the admission of rags now in port, and these en route to this country, shipped prior to the promulgation of the order of prohibition for three months. Mr. Coon said that the order would be maintained, but that rags now in port and hose en route, where the proof that such rags were collected in non-miseted districts was compote and undoubted, would be admitted; that where there was any doubt concerning them, such cargoes would be stored at suitable isolated points, and that no rags shipped after the date of the order would be admitted; The prohibition was held to apply to rags only, and not to other varieties of paper stock. FRAUDULENT LAND ERTRIES.

Report of the Investigations of a Special Agent of the Land Office-Miles of Public Lands Unlawfully Inclosed by Barbed Wire

Law Clerk St. John, of the general land of fice, who was detailed to investigate charges contained in an affidavit to the effect that twenty-five fraudulent entries had been made of lands on Bear creek, in southeastern [Cole rado, has just reported the result of his inqui-ries. He found buildings on all the entries and evidences of occupation, although there were no tenants, and he says the probabilities are that these lands and houses are occupied are that these lands and honses are occupied for winter quarters by the entrymen who are engaged in herding. There are no adverse set-tlers in possession of the land. The man who made the silldavit upon which the investiga-tion is based laves 190 miles from the entries, and it appears that he had no personal knowl-edge of any facts that would justify the belief that these entries are fraudnient. The special agent concludes that these entries are genuine and were made for the benefit of the entry-men.

A number of fraudulent entries were discou A number of Inadment of the Research and the Grand of Triendald, Col. In Las Animas county, Col. Mr. 81, John says that he found at least 160,000 acres of the public land fenced in with barbed wire. These cases have already least 190,000 acres of the public land reneed in with barbed wire. These cases have already been reported by the department. Hall and Burrelly have thus inclosed an area about ten miles square, and Thompson, another cattleman, has inclosed a tract six by ten miles in ostent. Great hardship to settlers and delay by traffic and mait transportation results trough these unlawful inclosures of the public domain. The penalty inflicted by the stockmen upon persons who dare to cut these fences or leave the gates open is death, and upon many sure fences are to be found signs reading. "In this fence and buy your coffin." The herders are usually Mexican peones of the lowest class, and the person who ventures to transgress the rule is shot down by one of them, and detection of the assassin is almost impossible.
